JOSEPH MONTALBETTI LAID TO REST

The remains of Joseph Montalbetti were laid to rest in the Union cemetery on Sunday afternoon, following a public service at the United church, conducted by Rev. A. E. Larke. The funeral, under the auspices of the Oddfellows and Rebekahs, was very largely attended. Oddfellows acted as pallbearers, with members of the Rebekah Lodge acting as honorary pallbearers. Services at the graveside were conducted by the Rebekahs and Rev. A. E. Larke. A number of relatives of the deceased were present from Bluffton and other points in Alberta, and from Missoula, Montana.

Pallbearers were: Oddfellows—Wm. Patterson, John Patterson, Wm. Oliver, Paul Barattelli, Alex. Morency and Tom McKay; Rebekahs—Mrs. M. McKay, Mrs. S. Simister, Mrs. W. McVey, Mrs. P. Barattelli, Mrs. J. Patterson and Mrs. C. Fraser.

Floral tributes are acknowledged from the following: Felix Montalbetti (brother), Charles Montalbetti and family, Ambrose Montalbetti and family, Charles Montalbetti, all of Bluffton, Alberta; Ernest Montalbetti, Corbin, B.C.; W. ## NEWS FROM EDMONTON

(By T. B. Windross)

Edmonton, May 25.—Just how many seats the Social Credit campaign is going to win in Saskatchewan, and what any, was the question of chief interest around the legislative buildings here as this week opened.

The difference in opinion was wide. Hon. E. C. Manning, who left his office, as Alberta's minister of trade and industry, to go to Saskatchewan as chief organizer for the party there—but did not leave his Alberta salary—thought everybody in Saskatchewan would be for a few days with the report that it looked as though Social Credit might win a majority of seats. Other reports, however, did not fit with that view of the party organizer, who could be expected to be as optimistic as possible. Other party followers said here that the Social Credit machine would be surprised and delighted if it got 15 seats; some set the figure as low as six.

It was believed sure that the chief chances of the party lay in the ridings along the Alberta border, where William Aberhart's Sunday orations have been heard for 10 years or more.

To hook Saskatchewan voters, Aberhart is using the same bait as in Alberta, but he is not content with himself as the same extent as he did in 1935. In his speaking tour last week, he said that he thought everybody in Saskatchewan should have a dividend of $25 a month—but he did not promise to provide it. He said that fountain pens and printing presses should make more money—but he did not say that he would see to it. He said instead that it was up to the Dominion government. He said that dividends should replace wages, "make the machine run the dividends." But it was evident that he did not mean the Social Credit machine.

He said that the premier's statement which the premier has made in his Saskatchewan campaign was in regard to the offer of Hon. Charles A. Dunning, federal minister of finance, to assist the Alberta government in establishing a provincial bank. "I thought he had better be careful, or I'll call his bluff some day and show him how to run a bank," the Alberta premier told his audience at Maidstone, Saskatchewan.

Political observers here remarked that two years ago the Alberta legislature passed a resolution asking the government to investigate the feasibility of establishing a provincial bank, and that the government never has made any move toward establishing such a bank.

Mr. Dunning, however, that Mr. Dunning was not bluffing when he offered every assistance to the provincial government if it wanted to establish a bank. They noted that the capital cost of founding a bank, through a charter, was a great deal less than required by the constitution, amounts to just about the same amount as the sum being spent out of taxpayers' contributions this year on Social Credit propaganda and on indemnities paid to the legislature. They observed, further, that if the government did obey the legislature's instructions to investigate feasibility, they would find that the banking business would be no gold mine, after all.

Yet a provincial bank would have the same authority, the same powers and the same restrictions as any other chartered bank in Canada. If it were true, as the premier and his supporters claim, that banks can "create" money, then the provincial government, by establishing a bank, could create money and so supply the needs of the province. The purchasing power which it claims are needed. It could even put all the other chartered banks out of business as far as Alberta is concerned.

If banks really had the powers that Aberhart claims they have, then a provincial bank would allow the Alberta government to fulfill its election pledges. If Aberhart really thought that Finance Minister Dunning was "bluffing" about a provincial bank, then it plainly was up to Aberhart to call that bluff, for the benefit of the citizens of Alberta.

If he thinks he can establish a bank profitably, he is not doing his duty as premier of Alberta as long as he refrains from it, declared political observers as they remarked that there is no indication that the present chartered banks would be pleased to have the government take over the responsibility of all banking in this province, because the banks lose heavily by it now.

Other events of last week around the legislative buildings included the departure of G. F. Powell, Social Credit organizer, who came here almost a year ago from England, ostensibly to prepare a Social Credit plan, which still is lacking, and who has devoted himself chiefly to propaganda (some of which led to his three-month jail term for criminal libel). Mr. Powell left for England Saturday night entirely by his own desire, and is not expected back here. During the week, however, he spent here since last June, and in addition was given $4,000 as a farewell present. It is not to laugh, for it has been his crime, I. D. Byrne, the other expert, who is remaining here, is drawing $6,000 a year plus expenses.

Boy Scouts of Cardston, Cranbrook and Fernie participated in a Scout Circus with Montana and Washington Scouts at Kallispell, Montana.

FRANCOIS CHARDON PASSES

Francois Chardon, aged 71, until quite recently resident of Fernie, was found dead in his car here on Sunday afternoon, death having resulted from carbon monoxide poisoning.

He was predeceased by his wife several months ago.

Inquest was considered unnecessary, and the remains were laid to rest on Tuesday forenoon in St. Anne's Catholic cemetery, following requiem mass celebrated at St. Anne's church by Rev. Dean M. A. Harrington.

Deceased came to Canada from France about thirty years ago, locating on a farm in the Edmonton district. Later he moved to Blairmore, and still later to Fernie, where he for a number of years conducted a rooming house. He is survived by his brother, Paul Chardon, of Blairmore, and a number of relatives in France.

Pallbearers were F. Chabot, Frank Demoustier, Emil Blas, Harold Pinkney, J. E. Upton and George Dau.

GRAND EXALTED RULER TO VISIT COLEMAN ELKS

Word has been received that P. W. Pound, grand exalted ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks of Canada and Newfoundland, will pay a visit to Coleman and the Coleman lodge on Thursday next, June 2nd, enroute from Vancouver to Edmonton for a provincial convention opening June 6th.

It is expected that members of various lodges in southern Alberta will gather at Coleman for the occasion. For further particulars, get in touch with Frank Barringham, district deputy grand exalted ruler.

THE MAY QUEEN IS CROWNED AT BELLEVUE

The weather man acted particularly favorable to the Victoria Day parties held at Bellevue. The big programme was carried out without a hitch and a most joyous day was spent by all. The attendance was by far the largest in the history of the town, exceeded only on the occasion of a big bluffer there in 1935.

The programme was staged under the auspices of the Bellevue United church, and the net proceeds of the day went towards church funds.

The programme started with a grand parade at one o'clock, following children's sports at the arena. The West Canadian Collieries band and a detachment of Mounted Police led off the procession, followed closely by a float conveying the May Queen and her attendants. Other floats and decorated cars followed. At the arena a splendid programme was rendered, in part as follows:

Opening, "O Canada"; chorus, "Land of Hope and Glory"; dance, Polish, by Coleman girls; chorus, school children; crowning of May Queen by Mrs. Brusset; ladies' quartet, "May Morning"; band selection, march; monologue, Fred Padgett; dance, Miss Kuryluk's class; solo, Miss Korman; greetings from Mayor Pattinson, of Coleman; dance, Miss Korman; solo, Tena; Maypole by the Bellevue girls under Mrs. Upton; greetings from Mayor Williams, of Blairmore; dance by Miss Kuryluk's class; band, march; dance, Coleman girls and boys; presentation to the May Queen by C. Emmerson; dance by Miss Iza Benman's class; chorus, school classes.

The queens were presented with the first and second prizes in the queen contest; Miss June Upton, first, and Miss Fedinato, second. Each received a wrist watch, and the others, Miss Spooner, Miss Haany, Miss Dominic and Miss Segal, all received suitable prizes. All the queens were presented with beautiful bouquets of flowers. During the crowning of the queens, colored spotlights played on the stage all through the ceremony. The pro-

The Annual Slaughter

With the summer months coming on when all mankind will be swathed in an appropriate and reasonable reminder of the terrible and mounding death toll attributable to the automobile in the hands of the careless, the reckless or outright criminal driver, was recently the subject of a press interview by Deputy Commissioner D. Ryan of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

As head of the force which polices the Western Canadian highways there is no better authority on the subject of road accidents and control measures than Colonel Ryan, and when he speaks out and accompanies his warnings with recommendations for measures of a preventive character, his comments are worthy of attention and consideration.

Armed with the latest figures of casualties on the North American continent, Col. Ryan points out that last year the automobile took toll of 40,683 lives in the United States and Canada. In other words, enough lives were snuffed out from this single cause to populate a good sized town or small city—the result of carelessness on the part of drivers of trucks and automobiles.

An Appalling Loss

Had all these people been killed at one time in a single disaster both countries would have been staggered and appalled at the magnitude of the loss. The catastrophe would have been regarded in either country as a national disaster. Calls would have been flashed all over the country for aid, people's hearts would have been wrung with pity and their purse strings would have been spontaneously loosened. Troops to preserve order, Red Cross ambulances and supplies would have been rushed into the stricken area and headlines in the newspapers would have screamed the anguish of sorrow stricken relatives and survivors.

But because these accidents and the toll they exact are scattered over an area of thousands of square miles and are spread throughout the year in innumerable crashes, little heed is taken, and even when annual reports appear revealing the year's total losses, the figures are passed over with a casual glance and a shrug of the shoulders. One or two speeches are made in parliament and legislatures about the monstrosity of the thing and the subject is promptly dropped for another year.

Nothing much is done about it, except perhaps to tighten up the law a little here and there, and the slaughter goes on, not only unabated, but with increasing momentum. Automobile insurance rates are jacked up another notch, and the subject is buried along with the victims.

Carelessness To Blame

Of the total death toll of 40,683 in the two countries, the United States can take credit for 39,243 compared with 1,440 in this country, an average of 327 deaths per million of population in the U.S.A. compared with an average of 131 per million in Canada.

At first glance it might be thought that this is a creditable showing for this country, but when the relative density of traffic in the two countries is taken into consideration, it is very doubtful whether, proportionately the Canadian death toll is any less than that of the United States. In fact, it may be worse.

With this unenviable record as a basis for comment, it is more than interesting to note Col. Ryan's proposals for cutting down the automobile death list. He points out that "practically all accidents can be avoided," and that "it is the careless driver who is mostly to blame for trouble."

On this premise Col. Ryan properly rates the drunken driver as public enemy No. 1 on the highway, and very properly suggests that the drunken driver when convicted should be barred from ever driving again, pointing out that "an intoxicated person operating a car is as much of a public menace as if he were operating a machine gun on the highway."

The other types of reckless and dangerous drivers, Col. Ryan, again very properly suggests, "can be and should be educated in the matter of safe driving," with the addendum that "any person who undertakes such education and succeeds, is performing a real service to the public."

The drivers who are capable of reformation through education are categorized by Col. Ryan, as follows: The driver who speeds when his vision is obscured by hill, curve or other obstruction; the driver who tries to beat the train to the crossing; the town or city driver who considers his appointment or game of golf more important than human life, and the night driver who does not dim his lights on meeting another car."

Caution Unheeded

A volume might well be written on each of the foregoing types of road hog, and the misery and suffering they have caused in the past and will continue to cause in the future, unless the warnings of printed and spoken word are heeded better than they have been in recent years.

It is doubtful whether the passage of more stringent legislation will have much effect on the mounding death toll due to careless and reckless drivers at the wheel. As Col. Ryan says, best results can be expected from education and every citizen of the country, whether a motorist or not should take a hand in a campaign to teach drivers that they must no longer drive to the peril of life and limb.

An aroused public opinion is the best insurance policy for safety on the highways of the country.

Recovering More Phases

At the opening of the Empire Exhibition in Glasgow, King George VI spoke ten minutes, making one of the clearest and most confident speeches since his elevation. His speech imparted was noticeable only twice—when he referred to the exhibition's "palaces and pavilions," and when he said "this new enterprise is the safest insurance against a return of the depression."

Entitled To Refund

Smith called on his parish. "Is it right for any person to profit by the mistake of other people?" he asked.

"Most certainly not," replied the parish.

Smith brightened as he replied: "Very well, then, perhaps you'd like to return that 7s. 6d. I paid you for marrying me."

Saint Peter (to Soctman at the portals of Paradise): "Ye cannot enter here; I'm not going to make porridge for one."

New Acid Mixture

Water Mixed With Acid Used To Increase Production In Oil Wells. Water in which a duck would sink was exhibited at the International Petroleum Exposition at Tulsa. This water is used in oil wells and is chemically treated to make it extra "wet".

The liquid becomes so moist, it was explained, that it would penetrate a duck's feathers all the way to the skin and render the bird too heavy to float.

The water is mixed with acid and pumped into oil wells to increase production. Because of its extreme wetness the water penetrates deeply into the stony formations which trap oil within their pores.

The acid mixed with the water opens the rocky pores and makes new drainage channels to untap oil reservoirs. This "moist moisture" is one of the developments in acidizing oil wells.

Acid is used after oil ceases its natural flow. To date the process has added about 450 per cent to the production of limestone wells.

TRAVEL MADE HIM
CONSTIPATEDSalesman Says Kruschen
Keeps Him "On His Toes"

"I am a commercial traveller," writes a correspondent, "and due to endless travelling by train and automobile I find that I become constipated. I do not keep myself internally clean. Kruschen is the only thing that will do this effectively and not interfere with my work. I take a large dose of Kruschen every Saturday night and on Sunday, when I have no work, I take a small dose on rising. It is necessary that I be 'on my toes' through the day, and this is the only way that it possibly can be done."

Kruschen Salts is an excellent recipe for maintaining a condition of internal cleanliness. The numerous salts in Kruschen stimulate your internal organs to smooth, regular action, and in this way prevent the onset of those impurities which, when allowed to accumulate, lower the whole tone of the system.

The Unshakable Force

Religion In World Affairs Would Solve Problems Of Humanity.

In the middle of Mussolini's kingdom sits the man they cannot touch. Unfettered, unprotected, he dares to rebuke Hitler for his religious persecution. He rebukes Mussolini, too, when Mussolini offends him. He is the Pope, Pius XI, eighty years old, leader of 324 million Catholics all over the world. Frail and bed-ridden, he works 22 hours in the day, lives on milk and coffee, only sleeps from two to four o'clock each morning. The dictators may boast of their power. But they can do nothing with the Pope. He represents the force of religion. If we could once restore that force into world affairs we would solve the problems of humanity.—London Sunday Express.

Honored The Losers

Banquet Held For Defeated Majority Candidates In Lakehead Cities.

An interesting and as far as we can remember an unprecedented function was held a few weeks ago when the defeated majority candidates in Port Arthur and Port William were tendered a complimentary banquet by the Independent Order of Foresters. That seems an excellent idea, for men who run for public office show good public spirit and often devote considerable time and money to the contest. Too often men who are unsuccessful in such elections simply drop from sight. After all in our system, there must be losers as well as winners and the good losers should not be forgotten.—Niagara Falls Review.

Safety Belts For Cars

Are Made Similar To Those Worn By Airplane Passengers.

A safety belt, similar to the kind now worn by airplane passengers, designed for use in automobiles, has just been announced.

Made of heavy canvas, the manufacturer says the belt will prevent people being thrown from their seats in collision, providing speeds are not in excess of 55 to 60 miles per hour. Adaptable to all passenger cars, installation can be made without damaging the interior.—National Safety Magazine.

Royal Society Of Canada Awards Medals For Merit.

Awards of medals to Col. William Wood of Quebec City, author of many volumes of Canadian history, Mazo de la Roche, Canadian author, and Dr. W. Lash Miller, professor of physical chemistry of the University of Toronto, were announced by the Royal Society of Canada.

Col. Wood will receive the J. B. Tyrrell medal, awarded annually for outstanding work in connection with the history of Canada. Miss de la Roche is to receive the Lorne Pierce medal for accomplishing in imaginative or critical literature some achievement of significance and conspicuous merit. The Sir Joseph Flavelle medal, awarded annually to a member of the Royal Society for original work in science or literature of a special or conspicuous merit goes to Dr. Miller.

Would Improve Grammar

Need For More Proper Use Of The English Language.

Establishment of "a central authoritative body on the proper use of the English language" is suggested by the London, Ont., board of education in a resolution to be presented to the annual convention of the Urban Trustees Association of Ontario.

The board's resolution said it was desirable use of English in Canada be improved from the standpoint of "grammar, enunciation and pronunciation," and asked the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation to establish a "central body" which would be responsible for deciding what is correct for Canadians in the matter of pronunciation of English words.

A Queer Old Custom

Peers Passing Through English Town Have To Donate Horseshoes

Many a king's horse has lost a shoe at Oakham, England, according to John L. Dorrwick, manager of the American Express Travel Service, who reports that because of an old custom the castle there has the right to demand a horseshoe from every peer who passes through the town. If any one refuses, a shoe can be taken from the horse. Queen Elizabeth gave one of the largest shoes in the castle, George IV. presented a seven-foot specimen of bronze and the present Duke of Windsor, when he visited George V. is not reported because he never passed through the town on horseback.

PIQUANT TONGUE MOLD

1 package quick-setting lemon jelly
1 pint warm water
2½ tablespoons vinegar
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon scraped onion
2½ cups boiled tongue, finely chopped
½ cup pickles, finely chopped
½ cup mayonnaise
Add vinegar and salt. Chill until cold and syrupy. Place in bowl of cracked ice or ice water and whip with rotary egg beater until fluffy and thick like whipped cream. Fold in tongue, pickles, and mayonnaise. Turn into loaf pan. Chill until firm. Unmold. Garnish with crisp lettuce and radishes. Serves 10.

If you have chicken on Sunday a rule here is the perfect dish for Monday:

MOLDED CHICKEN LOAF

1 package quick-setting lemon jelly
2 cups warm chicken stock, free from fat
1½ chicken, cut in small pieces
½ cup celery, finely chopped
½ cup green pepper, finely chopped
1 teaspoon scraped onion
2 tablespoons pimiento, finely chopped
2½ tablespoons vinegar
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup sliced olives chopped
Dash of Cayenne
Dash of Worcestershire sauce.

Dissolve jelly in warm stock. Chill. Add remaining ingredients. When jelly is slightly thickened, fold in chicken mixture. Turn into loaf pan. Chill until firm. Unmold. Serve in slices. Or mold in ring mold and serve as salad garnished with mayonnaise. Serves 8.

Assets To Any Town

Modest Man And Go-Ahead Type Are Equally Valuable

It is often said that it takes all kinds of people to make a world. And it's quite true. There's the big bad in a little puddle, or the big man in a small town or city who is always in the limelight, in the headlines of the newspaper and quite a lively figure about town. He has his good points and keeps the community pepped up. While some of his philanthropic acts may be a trifle exaggerated, he has, no doubt, contributed considerably to the welfare of the community.

But don't overlook the silent type, as the girls say. He's probably a man of moderate means who pays his bills, including taxes, promptly, minds his own business, is law-abiding, contributes to charity as much as he can and—white-hot—a great booster of his city or town, he lastly, a knocker. He, too, has his place in this world and is a valuable asset to the village, town or city in which he lives.

And there's always a chance that the modest man may come out of his shell and be a "big shot" with the rest of them.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

Payment For Parentage

Believes Married Man With Children Should Have Larger Income

A famed California psychologist recommended to parents and teachers of the United States payment for "society"—at so much a child, parentage—said Dr. Paul Popenoe, of Los Angeles, director of the Institute of Family Relations, "must be prepared to equalize the burden of parenthood by a proportional family wage which will increase the salary of the white-collar worker—whether man or woman—with the birth of each child."

"The present erroneous concept of equal pay for equal work—which merely means that a high school principal with a wife and four children is expected to live on the same salary that would be paid a bachelor, has proved to be too destructive of family life to be continued," he told 1,200 delegates from every state to the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

"It puts a high premium on sterility and punishes people for having children."

Furs Are Scarce

Forty Per Cent Reduction In Trappers' Returns This Year

Scarcity of rabbits in Canada's northland during the past winter will cause a drop in Canada's fur harvest this year of approximately 40 per cent, William Levine, president of Edmonton Fur Auction Sales Company, stated.

Rabbits, he said, were the sole food of many of the fur bearing animals and this year were at the bottom of their prevalence cycle. He said the fur harvest was usually worth about $8,000,000 a year to northern and western Canada fur men.

Water from the Atlas mountains sinks through the sands of the Sahara desert to an impervious strata of clay and vast underground, and breaks through to the surface as springs.

Saint Bernards Sent To Tibet

Have Been Inactive At Swiss Monastery Since Accident Last Year

Banished from their rescue work of generations in the Alpine snows, the pack of Saint Bernard dogs from the famous Swiss monastery of that name called from Marcellus to begin life anew in the Himalayas of Tibet. They have been bred and used at the pass for centuries.

After a tragic accident last year when a little girl was killed by the dogs near the Hospice of Grand Saint Bernard Pass, the dogs had been condemned to inactivity. They were not allowed to rove freely as before, carrying food and help to stranded wayfarers, and instead a great cage had to be constructed at the monastery where the dogs were confined. They became an object of curiosity, attracting hundreds of visitors as to a zoo.

They were always affectionately attended by their guardian and servant, Brother Cyrille, who declares that an injustice has been done to them and that the dogs are not dangerous.

It was with great joy that Brother Cyrille learned that monks had constructed a refuge at 5,000 meters altitude near Lhasa in Tibet and that they were eager to accept the services of the Saint Bernard dogs to do relief work in the Himalayas. Brother Cyrille sought permission of his Prior to take his dogs to Tibet.

Laying In Supplies

U.S. War Department Has Many Tons Of Tin Stored

The United States, too, is laying in supplies in case of war. For the first time in recent history the U.S. War Department is quietly building up substantial stocks of tin. At the moment the metal, which is being stored temporarily in an Army clothing warehouse in Brooklyn, N.Y., amounts to about 1,500 short tons, worth some $1,300,000. Reports are that after the new military appropriations go through the total may climb as high as 20,000 tons. Behind the move is this fact: practically all tin in tin munitions manufacture must be imported, and the U.S. is afraid an emergency might cut it off from supplies.

Tunnel Under Channel

Prime Minister Chamberlain Is Opposed To Idea

The perennial dream of a tunnel linking Great Britain and France was raised in the British House of Commons as a possible avenue of wartime provisioning, and was promptly rejected by Prime Minister Chamberlain. "Does not the Prime Minister think that a tunnel under the Channel would prove an excellent protection for the food supplies of this country in the face of any air future menace?" Harry Day, Labor, asked. Mr. Chamberlain dismissed the question with a brief, simple, "No sir."

ITALO-FRENCH ACCORD REACHES A DEADLOCK

Paris.—France warned Premier Mussolini of Italy that she and Great Britain stand shoulder to shoulder against any efforts to separate them.

11 Duce's latest demands for signing an Italo-French friendship agreement were rejected.

The deadlock in efforts to reach an accord paralleling the Anglo-Italian pact of April 16 was believed in many quarters here to have put southern Europe back into the same tension that hung over it in the early part of the year.

Premier Daladier himself made a statement referring to the reinforced Anglo-French friendship. At the same time, the Earl of Perth, British Ambassador in Rome, was reported to have told Foreign Minister Count Ciano of Italy that the Anglo-Italian agreement was worthless without an Italo-French accord.

Daladier's reference to Anglo-French solidarity came in a statement in which he declared France alone would defend her frontiers against "all attempts at violence."

"The London conversations (of April 28-29)," he said, "reinforced the Franco-British entente—an entente which the world knows, which on the contrary is a means toward European peace."

11 Duce's main demands for signing an accord with France—and the replies—were reported as follows:

Mussolini: France must close her Pyrenees frontier with Spain before Italian troops fighting in the civil war will be withdrawn.

The reply: France will close the frontier only after the Italians leave Spain.

Mussolini: Italy will conscript troops in Ethiopia unless France promises not to recruit troops in her colonial empire.

The reply: France refused and issued an order recruiting 60,000 additional colonial soldiers.

Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet Russian foreign minister, still was in Paris, determined to keep a way open for passage of arms and ammunition into Government Spain as long as Italy keeps her troops with the insurgents.

London.—Sir John Simon, chancellor of the exchequer, declared in the House of Commons that Italy "fully and fairly" had kept her Anglo-Italian friendship agreement pledges. Sir John denied Premier Mussolini had "materially" increased his aid to Spanish insurgent General Franco.

Wedgehead, Hain, Labor, declared the British government had ditched France and was pressing Premier Daladier to abandon France's defensive pact with Soviet Russia while Germany was "organizing air bases in northern Spain."

Sir John admitted Prime Minister Chamberlain's eagerness to negotiate with Rome had been attacked as "giving way to baseless fear."

He added, however, it was necessary to make peace with Italy in a pact which was "warmly approved in most countries."

Kingsley Griffith, opposition Liberal, declared Italy's attitude on non-intervention in Spain was "unhappy."

"We who depend so much on the Mediterranean are to give another power (Italy) the right to dictate exactly what form of government is to exist in Spain," he said. "That is permission, we didn't grant Napoleon, who was a far greater man than Mussolini."

Need Better Food

Wiesbaden, Germany.—German physicians warned the government it would have to provide the people with better bread, fruit and fresh vegetables. More or less synthetic bread now used has been severely criticized by doctors as not conducive to good health.

Report Japanese Losses

Hankow.—The Central (Chinese) News Agency reported an official Japanese announcement made at Yenchow, in southern Shantung, estimated that 135,000 Japanese troops had been killed in China since the war began last July.

Earl Of Egmout Sails For England

New York.—Expressing optimism about agricultural conditions in western Canada, the Earl of Egmout, young Alberta rancher, sailed for England on the Canadian Pacific liner, Empress of Britain.

Deserters Arrested

Hong Kong.—British naval authorities announced 15 seamen deserted the British cruiser Dorsetshire during its recent visit to Australian ports. Four of the deserters were arrested and taken to Hong Kong.

New Naval Base

To Guard Western Mouth Of The English Channel

London.—A naval base is being built on the Island of Portland to guard the western mouth of the English Channel from any attack from Spanish ports.

The base, to protect an approach used by the ill-fated Spanish Armada of 1588, has long been a secondary defence asset but achieved primary importance as a result of foreign intervention in the Spanish war and the theory that a hostile power might use Spanish ports for war-time operations.

Modernization and extension of the harbor and dockyard at Portland is already under way. Naval air squadrons now will take over a large part of the island, including the military citadel known as the Verne, normally garrisoned by the army.

Britain's largest warship anchorage in the harbor, entering and leaving whatever the state of the tide.

Already the site of the navy's anti-submarine school, Portland soon will be the chief anti-submarine base sheltering a powerful force of swift motor torpedo boats, submarines and bombing planes. Naval experts believe a fleet of small ships might "sweep" an invading fleet much as the Spanish Armada was harried 350 years ago.

The island is heavily armed. Across Weymouth Bay, opposite Portland, a coastal defence battery, first set up in the Great War, is being remounted.

Election Act

Would Stop Candidates From Withdrawing Names At Last Minute

Ottawa.—A candidate in a Dominion election will not be able to withdraw later than 48 hours before the polls open on election day if an amendment to the new act made in the commonsense election committee is accepted by parliament. In the past a candidate could withdraw right up to the close of the polls.

When a candidate withdraws too late to have his or her name dropped from the ballots, the deputy returning officer in each subdivision must tell each voter when giving out a ballot, that the candidate has withdrawn. In any event the candidate withdrawing loses his deposit of $200.

The amendment was moved by Samuel Pender (Lib., Toronto-Spadina) who claimed it was unfair to other candidates if a candidate could withdraw after most of the votes were in.

Fire Boss Rules

Did Not Use Lockable Safety Lamp When Inspecting Mine

Hinton, Alta.—William Aitken, fire boss at the Hinton Collieries mine here, testified at an inquest into the deaths of five miners killed in an explosion in the mine March 31, that he had "broken regulations" by not using a lockable safety lamp in inspecting the mine the day before the blast occurred.

Aitken said he had used an electric battery lamp in inspection. There were "at least three" safety lamps available at the mine, he said, but he did not use them because they were not lockable.

Air Duplicity

Both Chinese And Japanese Are Accused Of Camouflaging

Shanghai.—The Chinese and Japanese charged each other with duplicity in the air. The Chinese said three Japanese planes painted with Chinese colors bombed Kiating, on the Hupeh-Honan border, killing 30 persons. The Japanese reported a Chinese plane painted with Japanese colors soared over Japanese troops near Wuhu, dropped cigarettes, then swooped down and machine-gunned the soldiers as they picked them up.

Will Await Report

Before Contracts For British Aircraft Are Let Out

Montreal.—Overseas contracts for aircraft will not be let out by Great Britain until the British air mission has returned to London and made its report, Commander J. G. Weir, head of the mission, said on arriving from Ottawa.

Commander Weir said the mission, investigating the possibilities of British purchase of aeroplanes in America, was "just in the middle of the job."

R.A.F. Flyers Killed

London.—Two Royal Air Force flyers were killed when two bombing planes collided in midair at Sebatang, Dutch settlements, the air ministry announced.

Italy Conserving Wheat

Bakers Ordered To Use More Corn Flour In Bread

Rome.—The Italian government has ordered all Italian bakers to use 20 per cent. of corn flour in making bread instead of the 10 per cent. that has been required hitherto.

The move was seen as a step toward wheat conservation and Mussolini's hope of economic self-sufficiency.

A reliable authority said the government had taken steps to purchase a large amount of wheat abroad to make up for this year's short crop. The situation was eased in part by the surplus remaining from last year's big crop.

Wheat In Store

Decrease Of 1,250,115 Bushels For Week Ending May 13th

Ottawa.—Canadian wheat in store for the week ending May 13 decreased 1,250,115 bushels from the previous week and 25,817,360 from the corresponding week in 1937, the Dominion bureau of statistics reported. The amount in store was reported as 39,322,878 bushels against 39,482,993 the previous week and 64,150,238 for the week ended May 14, 1937. Canadian wheat in the United States totalled 516,000 bushels against 706,000 the preceding week and 5,439,822 last year.

BARE MAJORITY IN SENATE FOR THE DIVORCE BILL

Ottawa.—By a bare majority of four the senate carried third reading of the bill sponsored by Hon. Lénard McMeens (Con., Winnipeg) to broaden the grounds for divorce in Canada. The vote was 33 to 29.

The measure now goes to the House of Commons where its course is uncertain. The senate vote cut through party lines. Eleven Liberal senators approved the bill; 12 were opposed. Conservatives in favor numbered 22, with 17 against.

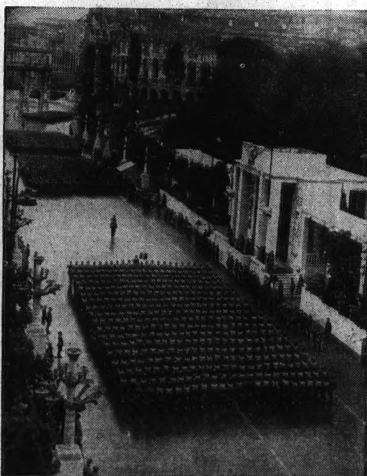

All the Roman Catholic members of the senate present registered themselves in opposition. They were supported by four non-Catholics.

Adhering closely to the bill approved in the British parliament last year, the measure seeks to add to adultery, at present the sole ground for divorce, a number of others. These include desertion for six years, cruelty "as interpreted and determined by the high court of England in divorce and matrimonial causes"; incurable insanity over a period of five years and extreme immorality on the part of the husband.

Provision also is made for the voidance of marriage on grounds of refusal to consummate the union, or discovery that at the time of the marriage one of the parties was suffering from a specific disease.

Among those for the bill were Senators W. M. Auld (Con., Saskatchewan); James Calder (Con., Regina); A. B. Gillis (Con., Saskatchewan); R. B. Horner (Con., Saskatchewan); H. W. Laird (Con., Regina).

ITALY GOOSE-STEPS FOR ADOLF HITLER

Fifty thousand Italian troops gave a great demonstration before Herr Hitler when the Führer visited Rome recently. This photograph, taken the day before Hitler's arrival, shows the full dress rehearsal on parade on the Triumphal Way.

DISMISSAL REFUSED

The dismissal of Prof. H. F. Angus of Vancouver (above), a member of the Rowell Commission, because of alleged "partisan" speeches in Toronto recently was suggested in the House of Commons, but Premier King refused to accept the suggestion.

Want Work Guaranteed

Or Vancouver's Single Unemployed Will Not Come Back To Frailties

Vancouver.—R. W. Campbell, member of the executive of the Relief Project Workers' Union, has told the Vancouver Trades and Labor Council that Vancouver's single unemployed union members want jobs guaranteed before they accept transportation back to the prairies.

In a short speech before the council in which he solicited union representation in the council, Campbell said:

"The latest gem to solve the unemployment problem is a proposal from Victoria to send 1,800 men back to the prairies. I can tell you it is no more pleasant to starve on the prairies than in Vancouver. We will only accept transportation back there if jobs are guaranteed us at the other end."

Works Program For Britain

Government Plan Road Building To Keep Workers Busy

London.—Fearing a slump when the rearmament program ends, the government already is mapping a $500,000,000 ($250,000,000) housing and road building program to keep workers busy and trade moving.

The ministry of health, which must sanction such government ventures, wants local authorities throughout the country to prepare five-year programs of contemplated work, and review them each year.

The plan to rebuild Great Britain, as some experts call it, probably will not be in operation before 1940.

Bombs For Air Force

Contain No Powder And Are Just Used For Practice

Ottawa.—National defence department officials disclosed that an order for 20,000 practice aerial bombs had been placed with the firm of Parmenter and Bullock at Gananoque, Ont. The bombs contain no powder and do not explode but are identical in shape and weight with the regular 11-pound type. They will be used by the Royal Canadian Air Force.

Granted Leave To Foreclose

National Trust Company Starts Action Against Doukhobor-Owned Lands

Vancouver.—Mr. Justice A. M. Manson in supreme court granted leave to National Trust Company, Ltd., to start an action to foreclose Doukhobor-owned lands in British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan.

The suit concerns a $350,000 debenture charge against 5,600 acres of land in British Columbia, 11,000 acres of land in Alberta and 15,000 in Saskatchewan, all owned by the Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood, a part of the Russian religious sect of Doukhobors.

The C.C.U.B. is the incorporated company through which Doukhobors resident in Canada conduct business.

New Loan Over-Subscribed

Was All Taken Up Half Hour After Books Opened

Ottawa.—The new $140,000,000 Dominion of Canada loan was over-subscribed half an hour after the books opened, the finance department announced.

The loan was for a maximum of $140,000,000, of which $90,000,000 was conversion and $50,000,000 cash subscriptions.

It took the form of six-year, two per cent. bonds due June 1, 1944, priced at 99.375 and accrued interest, to yield approximately 2.11 per cent. to maturity, and 20-year, three per cent. bonds due June 1, 1968, priced at 99 and accrued interest, to yield approximately 3.07 per cent. to maturity.

Students Win Honors

Four From Saskatchewan Receive Special Awards At Manitoba University

Winnipeg.—Four Saskatchewan students at the University of Manitoba received their degrees and special awards at the 60th convocation exercises.

John M. Parker, of Togo, Sask., won the Lieutenant-Governor's Gold Medal in agriculture; Elmer H. Arn, Saskatoon, the University Gold Medal for education; D. P. Logan, Yorkton, Sask., the Royal Architectural Institute of Canada Gold Medal, and Helene de Forest, Radway, Lang, Sask., the Fletcher Gold Medal for highest standing in the education course.

N. B. CONTENTS PROVINCES ARE SOVEREIGN STATES

Fredericton.—Consistent with its contention that the provinces are distinctly sovereign states, the New Brunswick government suggested any necessary adjustment in the financial map of the provinces should be made by increased federal grants rather than by transfer of any provincial responsibilities to the Dominion.

The provincial government proposed before the opening session of the Rowell Commission here that existing difficulties should be solved as far as possible "within the limits of the present constitutional provisions." This is the final provincial hearing by the commission.

Whatever assistance was necessary for the various provinces to maintain a reasonably uniform standard of services should be given according to need and the principle applied in the case of old age pensions, administration remaining with the provinces, the government suggested.

The government submitted closer co-operation between provinces and Dominion would do much to reconcile conflicting views and eliminate "arms length" procedure in Dominion-provincial relations. To that end it suggested a department of state for the provinces at Ottawa and departments of federal relations in the provinces.

A system of "regional tariffs" was recommended as one means of preserving the province's industries against the claimed tendency of the national tariff policy to centralize industry in Ontario and Quebec. However, reduction in freight rates to central Canada was held the most practicable method of compensation "in view of the probability of the protective tariff being continued."

The government complained recommendations of the 1927 Duncan Commission regarding import and export rates had not been implemented, and that the partial remedy provided in the Maritime Freight Rates Act of 1927 had been practically wiped out by competitive rates introduced since that act was passed.

JAPANESE FORCES REPORT CAPTURE OF SUCHOW CITY

Shanghai.—The Japanese army announced complete occupation of Suchow, military heart of eastern China.

The announcement said Japanese troops had taken the city and were "engaged in annihilating remnants of the defeated Chinese army."

The Japanese army spokesman said a preliminary estimate was 7,000 Chinese were killed in the Suchow area, including 3,000 within the city. He asserted 50 Chinese divisions of about 7,000 each were surrounded in the Suchow vicinity, including 10 of General Chiang Kai-Shek's best divisions.

There was every indication they would be annihilated, the spokesman said.

Suchow, 350 miles northwest of Shanghai, had been the goal of Japan's "grand campaign" in eastern China. Strategically, the city was more important to Japanese armies than fallen Nanking, once China's capital.

Its occupation permits Japanese to link the conquered northern provinces with the Shanghai-Nanking area of the Yangtze river valley and control the Chinese seaboard from Manchoukuo to Hangchow bay.

Japanese told of the Suchow victory in the face of Chinese reports from Hankow that Suchow was not impregnable and that the nearest fighting was at Hwangkong, 22 miles to the west. There, Chinese said, a Japanese attack was repulsed.

Atlantic Mail Flights

Inauguration Of Service Is Set For Late In June

London.—Inauguration of the experimental Trans-Atlantic airmail service, forerunner of regular air communication between the old and new worlds, is definitely on the books for late in June.

The craft that will essay the test, the appropriately named Mercury, is ready for the take-off the last week of next month. The ship, payload-carrying component of the Mayo "pick-a-back" craft, has undergone the most rigid tests over a period of months.

First, the mother-ship, called the May, soared into the sky with the burden to test the manoeuvrability of the locked planes in flight. Then came the more hazardous operation of separating the two units under full throttle in mid-air. The trials were described as a complete success.

Carrying a full Atlantic load of 20,000 pounds and 1,200 gallons of gasoline, the Mercury was launched from the Maia from a height of 3,000 feet, and after flying about for a while landed safely.

Anton Lang Is Dead

Was Famed The World Over For His Portrayals Of Christ

Munich.—Anton Lang, a famous Bavarian potter, famed the world over for his portrayals of Christ in the historic Oberammergau passion plays, died in a Munich hospital at the age of 63. He was operating on for a stomach ailment. Following a tradition of his family, and trained almost from birth for the role, Lang played the Christ in the passion plays in 1910, 1911 and 1922.

Ontario Motor Licenses

Toronto.—More than $85,000 motor vehicle licenses have been taken out in Ontario this year, 61,000 more than in the same period last year, provincial highways department officials said. Passenger vehicle licenses, at $16.85, are $4,000 ahead of the number in 1937. Gasoline sales are up, too, motorists using 21,383,000 gallons in March this year, about 1,000,000 more than in the same month last year.

To See Quints

Callander, Ont.—The board of guardians of the Dionne quintuplets decided at a meeting here the children would be on view before the public May 23. The hours will be from 9:30 until 10 a.m. and from 3 until 3:30 p.m.

Exhibit Will Remain

Saskatoon.—The F. F. Lund wild life exhibit, considered one of the main attractions at Prince Albert National Park, and which was threatened with removal, will remain for at least another year according to information received in the city.

ALBERTA PAYS

This week Alberta finds itself in the unique position of financing the campaign speakers in our neighboring province of Saskatchewan's general election.

Premier Aberhart at $9,000, Hon. Manning at $4,000, and Hon. Maynard $4,000, per annum paid by the citizens of Alberta, have taken time out with full pay to run down to Saskatchewan in an attempt to persuade the citizens there that Social Credit has worked so well in Alberta that they too should adopt the fantastic theory.

If increased taxation, decreased public services, budget deficits, repudiated debts and a wrecked civil service are what the people of Saskatchewan really want, they can well adopt Mr. Aberhart's theories of finance and government.

If, however, they desire to have their business run along sane lines then they will do well to tell Mr. Aberhart and his cohorts to return to Alberta and put their own house in order.

If Alberta had, during the past three years under Social Credit, shown the slightest improvement financially as a result of legislation of the present government, there might be some excuse for Saskatchewan welcoming Mr. Aberhart's theories. But there is not one single item to which even the most enthusiastic Social Crediter can point with pride.

The election in Saskatchewan is set for June 8th, and will be watched with considerable interest by Albertans.—Innisfail Province.

At a quiet ceremony here on May 17th, Miss Roberta Brown, of Fernie, became the bride of Michael Pietras, Rev. Dean M. A. Harrington officiating.

The fish in our streams of the eight-inch variety wish to thank the government for extending the franchise to them, giving them the same privileges as the nine-inch fish of last year.

Mrs. C. F. Dunlop, of Coleman, has been called to Merritt, B.C., where her seven-year-old granddaughter, Beverley Gillis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Gillis, formerly of Coleman, passed away. The remains were laid to rest at Merritt on Wednesday.

Local district streams have been running high during the week, and at times have reached near flood proportions. Though the highway near Frank has been overrun slightly, so far little or no damage has been done. It is thought that the waters are now at peak height and that streams should subside considerably within the next few days.

Dr. Price Brown, one of the best known members of the medical profession in Canada, died in Toronto on April 3rd at the age of 94. For the last twenty years of his life, Dr. Brown was without his sight. Although failing eyesight caused him to abandon the greater part of his medical work many years ago, Dr. Brown did not cease his active contribution to Canadian life. When he was close to ninety years old, he wrote and published "Laura the Undaunted," story of the life of Laura Secord, regarded as a valuable contribution to the store of Canadian literature.

Were all Alberta jail birds to be treated as was Expert George F. Powell, millions of Alberta dollars could be put into circulation. But it shouldn't be allowed to leave the province.

A freak turkey was hatched at the Hallman hatcheries, near Brooks. It had two extra legs from the centre of the body which drag slightly as it walks on the others, which are normal. The extra legs have three toes instead of four.

The apple blossom number of The Advertiser, published at Kentville, Nova Scotia, contains a picture of a Hungarian partridge nest containing no less than 25 eggs. These birds are being established and propagated in Nova Scotia.

G. F. Powell, British Social Credit technician and ex-convict, who came to Alberta in June of 1937 as a representative of Major C. H. Douglas, has decided to return to the Old Country. He was released from jail on parole April the 29th.

An egg producer is not allowed to advertise his eggs unless he is armed with a license or has a permit from the department of agriculture. And a newspaper is liable to punishment if it allows the ad to appear when the producer is not so law abiding. Probably it's a means to guarantee fresh eggs (?)

One man was all that was necessary to extend a "pressing invitation" to Mr. Aberhart to parade into Saskatchewan. As in Alberta, it represents the "will of the people." Able would not dare test the will of the Alberta people through the medium of the secret ballot today—and he realizes it will fall.

Let a civil servant overstay his holiday and his pay would be cut or he'd be dismissed. Aberhart and several others who are in the pay of the people of Alberta, are overstaying their holiday to Saskatchewan right now and should be "sacked."

Rev. A. S. Farrington, newly appointed vicar to the Creston-Wynnedel-Yahk parish, was tendered a reception at the home of Mrs. H. Peterson on the occasion of his first visit and service to Yahk on Friday afternoon, May the 20th, when a large number of members and adherents of the church were present.

H. A. Craig, deputy minister of agriculture, is the latest to appear before the firing squad at Edmonton. He was dismissed during the week by Hon. D. B. Mullen, minister of agriculture. He was one of the best known agriculture officials in Western Canada, and had been deputy minister for 23 years. Just another example that proficiency is not desired by our Social Credit government. As usual, no reason for the dismissal is given.

It was made known at a meeting of the newly-formed Firebosses' Association that the coal operators of the Drumheller valley had refused to grant the association recognition. A conciliation board is now being sought through the provincial government. The secretary of the association stated to a press representative that safety of human life and property was placed in the keeping of firebosses, and that there is no work in the mines given to firebosses which they refuse to do, for if he did refuse he would not last long on the job. Certain jobs a fireboss is called upon to do in the mine earns for him the name of a "scab" from other workmen. His wages do not permit the purchasing of many luxuries, the rate being $4.80 to $6.80 per day of eight hours.

A Vermonter saw a coat outside a pawnbroker's, priced $10, and thought he might dicker for it. He took it inside, and said to the pawnbroker: "How much is this worth?"

"Not more than $2," the pawnbroker replied.

"I'll take it," said the Vermonter.

"Take it!" gasped the pawnbroker.

"I thought you had come here to sell it!"

WAR VETERANS' ALLOWANCE

The War Veterans' Allowance Act is intended to relieve, from necessity, the veteran who is incapable of maintaining himself.

Those eligible are veterans of the Canadian Expeditionary Forces, or Canadian South African Contingent or Allies, who were domiciled in Canada, at the time of their enlistment.

Veteran must have attained the age of sixty years (60), or, because of physical or mental disabilities, combined with economic handicaps, be incapable of maintaining himself. If over sixty (60) years, he must have served in an Actual Theatre of War, or be in receipt of Disability Pension. If under sixty (60) must have served in an Actual Theatre of War.

The amounts payable are a maximum of forty dollars ($40.00) to a married man, and twenty dollars ($20.00) to a single man. In addition, a married man can have income or casual earnings of a further forty dollars ($40.00) per month, and a single man a maximum of twenty ($20.00) per month.

There is no deduction on property in which a man is living, providing it is not valued at over two thousand dollars ($2,000.00).

The Act will not provide for any man who is in need simply by reason of unemployment. He must have sufficient physical disability to prevent him maintaining himself.

If you feel you are entitled, apply through the Canadian Legion, Provincial Command, 511 Leeson-Lincoln Block, Calgary.

The attitude of the Aberhart government towards the Lieutenant-Governor of the Province and his requirements, is to say the least, undignified, unnecessary and unrepresentative of the wishes of the Alberta people as a whole. Such actions come with poor grace from a premier and a cabinet who are so good to themselves at the expense of the Alberta taxpayers.—Drumheller Review.

Newspaper heading reads: "Aberhart in shape." What sort of shape? Some folks are built streamlined, but he seems to be of the Fisher body type.

Mr. J. Douglas and family arrived from Red Deer the early part of the week to make their home in Blairmore. Mr. Douglas succeeds Mr. A. M. Burnett as secretary and accountant for Mr. C. DOMINION HOUSING PLAN
UNAVAILABLE TO ALBERTANS

High River, Alta., May 19.—A side-light showing how recent Aberhart legislation has hurt would-be Alberta homeowners appeared in the High River Times, one of Alberta's best-known weeklies. The article declares that the Dominion Housing Plan, with its low interest rates and helpful features, is not available to builders in Alberta because loan companies fear the repudiatory effects of the Aberhart statutes.

"High River young people wishing to establish homes, and renters anxious to acquire homes of their own, are learning that it is impossible to avail themselves of the Dominion housing scheme because of the unsettled financial conditions existing in this province," states the High River Times. "They are learning that the destruction of Alberta's credit, as applied to legislative enactments, is no mere catch-phrase, but in actual fact is affecting the credit of individual Albertans, preventing them from taking advantage of opportunities for home building available in other provinces. No matter how honest a man may be in the payment of his obligations, he is penalized for being an Albertan. And very reasonably so, when one views the perilous position in which any mortgage holder is placed," the Alberta paper warned.

AN ATTEMPT TO STEAL SMALL SAVINGS

Calgary, May 17.—Mortgages in Alberta belong to people who can no more afford to lose the money they represent than many of the borrowers can afford to lose the farms and homes they cover," stated a telegraphed plea for disallowance of the Aberhart legislation sent to Ottawa by the Calgary Board of Trade.

More than half the mortgages in Alberta belong to individuals and are the result of their small savings, pointed out the Board of Trade. Another quarter belongs to policyholders of life insurance companies.

"The combined effect of these acts is to confiscate the property of holders of mortgages in Alberta, whether they reside in Alberta or elsewhere; whether they are rich or poor; and whether the men who owe the money are able to pay or not," said the telegram.

"The members of the Board of Trade believe that any attempt to cure the financial difficulties of the people of Alberta by confiscating the property of others must only aggravate the troubles of the people of Alberta and cannot contribute anything to their solution. The constitution gives to the Federal Government the power of disallowance to enable the preservation of the rights of people within and without Alberta which are being placed in jeopardy. The members of the Board of Trade believe that, with that power there goes an obligation of the Federal government to exercise that power, not just to defeat the purpose of those who would confiscate, but to protect the rights of those whose property is being taken.

"Members of the Board of Trade are sometimes told that the people of Alberta elected the members of the legislature that are passing these acts, and are therefore bound in a democratic country to take the consequences. They desire to point out that the power of disallowance is designed to protect the minority. Moreover, they desire to call attention to the fact that these acts are confiscating the property of thousands of people not resident in Alberta who were without any voice in the selection of the members of the Alberta legislature and who are powerless to protect themselves against these acts. The Board of Trade of Calgary, therefore, requests that in the interests of the debtors and creditors in Alberta, and of creditors of the people of Alberta who live outside this province, the Federal government should disallow these acts," urged the Calgary business men.

CHURCHES ASK DISALLOWANCE

Toronto, May 17.—Two great church denominations and two leading Canadian universities today urged the Mackenzie King government to disallow recent confiscatory Alberta legislation. Protests were sent to Ottawa from the board of finance of the general synod of the Church of England in Canada, the sub-executive of the general council of the United Church of Canada and the investments and estates committee, the board of regents of Victoria University, and the board of trustees of Queen's University.

"We urge disallowance in what we believe to be the interests of justice and equity," read the Anglican wire, signed by Archbishop Derwyn T. Owen, Primate of all Canada and President of the general synod, and J. M. McWhinney, treasurer.

The United Church protest read, in part: "We believe that the passage of these acts not only offers further threat to the credit of Canada as a whole, but is without possibility of justification on moral grounds, involving as it does the betrayal of the interests of a multitude of men and women who have relied upon the integrity of Canada and its provinces in the investment of their savings." The United Church memorandum urged that disallowance be made immediately.

In a telegram to Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, signed by J.R.L. Starr, chairman of the board and Chancellor E. W. Wallace, the regents of Victoria University stated: "Not only is the board directly concerned because of the threat to its funds invested in Alberta, with the consequent loss of university income, but it views with deep concern the effect of this legislation upon the ethical standards of our youth and of our people generally, and upon the credit of Canada abroad."

Trustees of Queen's declared that the Aberhart legislation was "inimical to the best interests of Canada and should be disallowed." The Alberta Act contained oppressive taxation provisions, stated the Trustees, pointing out that it was in effect "wholesale cancellation or repudiation of debt." The legislation would impair university investments in Alberta, cause widespread loss to individuals and corporations, and seriously affect the credit of Canada.

An Aberdonian was taken to hospital with a radio cabinet jammed over his head. When the enunciation was removed, the surgeon asked him how he managed to get into such an extraordinary situation. "Well," said the patient, "I was sitting at home listening to a religious service, and suddenly I heard the collection plate drop."

TURNER VALLEY PRICES MUST BE KEPT NEAR MONTANA LEVEL

Why the price of Turner Valley crude oil must be kept at a level having a very definite relationship to the price of Montana oil was explained in a memorandum submitted to the Tariff Board of Canada recently by E. G. Cottle, chief auditor of the Alberta Board of Public Utilities Commissioners. The memorandum was as follows:

"Although Montana crude oil cannot compete with Turner Valley crude at Calgary refineries, it can quite definitely compete at refineries in Saskatchewan and Manitoba, or at Coultas. This statement is based on the assumption that the price of Turner Valley crude must be low enough to secure the Saskatchewan and Manitoba markets.

"The lower crude prices in Montana result in lower refinery prices of finished products. This means lower refined prices, not only in southern Alberta, but, by reason of the basis of the Alberta price structure, over the entire province. Lower refined product prices in Alberta naturally require lower crude prices in Turner Valley, so that crude prices in Montana control the price in Turner Valley independently of the product competition offered by Montana crude in Saskatchewan and Manitoba."

A certain church was in need of a minister, and two candidates, the Rev. Mr. Adam and a Dr. Low, offered to preach. Dr. Low preached in the morning, and took for his text, "Adam, where art thou?" His discourse was pleasing, and the congregation were favorable to him. In the evening the Rev. Mr. Adam preached, and took for his text, "Lo, here am I!" The impromptu and his sermon gained him the church appointment.

POOR, POOR ALBERTA WHEN RETRIBUTION SETS IN

The greatly increased automobile purchases in Alberta, as reported elsewhere in this issue of The Financier, is a fine commentary on Premier Aberhart's all-round debt repudiation. And by that token, if the people of Alberta are satisfied to buy automobiles with ill-gotten funds fished from lenders on mortgages, etc.—which are documentary agreements to meet the interest and repay the borrowed money—then they would be well advised to emulate the furry creatures who store the necessities of life for forthcoming long winter months, when nature covers her store bins with frost and snow.

For Alberta, with the money markets of the world closed to her, will inevitably pay a bitter price for her leaders' folly. As it is, things are only held together, financially, by the large volume of outside funds brought in to develop the wonderful oil resources of the province, surely underserving in view of the people's rabid intolerance of all decent business relationships between men. We say "the people," because it is their responsibility in the last analysis.

This astonishing automobile buying power reminds us of Premier Aberhart's remark on one occasion when promising the $25 monthly dividend. He was raving about the condition of penury and starvation throughout Alberta, and to make his remarks the more tearful, said that people of Alberta were reduced to "wearing gunny sack" and hadn't the price even to buy gasoline for their cars.

Truly a nightmare of absurdities, this whole mess of contradictory policies adopted by the present leaders of a hitherto fine province in this fine Dominion; for it is the people who will eventually pay the piper, not Mr. Aberhart, who, we are given to understand, has the sagacity to keep his own personal resources in the strong boxes of British Columbia, where he knows his bank account will be beyond the reach of legislative robbers.—The Financier.

We would draw attention to some of the things we people in Canada enjoy, and ask you if you would come to exchange what you have for the glories of Fascism or Communism? In Germany and Italy, there are no Boy Scouts. Such organizations are officially banned. In these same countries neither the Masonic or any other secret society can function. In Russia you do as you are told and support Stalin, or else. The "elae" usually means a bullet through a vital spot. And just step to figure out for yourself how much employment we would have in Canada if all our young men of military age were serving in the army. We'll take democracy with all its faults...and we are willing to put up quite a scrap to keep it.—Clareholm Local Press.

With most of our cabinet ministers, including the premier himself, holidaying in Saskatchewan at the expense of the poor poverty-stricken people of Alberta, we seem to get along nicely without them and with just as much efficiency in service as though they were right on the job, with exception that there must have been someone left in this province to give away $4,000 to Powell as a token of appreciation for his twelve-months service for which he had already received over another four thousand. Tears can be shed by the premier and members of our government to feed and clothe the poor unfortunate. Many a farmer, and many a citizen in other walks of life, have done equally as much and more for the province with absolutely no remuneration in sight for their good turn, and none ever expected. On top of this, it will be discovered some day that, while relief grants have been cut through alleged shortage of funds to meet them, the greater part of that $100,000 granted to the Social Credit Board will have been spent in Saskatchewan. Isn't it time our people wakened up and took the most drastic action.

FERNIE SOFTBALL WINNERS ARE STILL UNDECIDED

Ted's Cards, the only Alberta entry in the softball tournament at Fernie on Victoria Day, were defeated in the first round by the "150" Maroons to the tune of 14-3.

Results of the tournament, were as follows:

First round—Beer Barons 3, "150" Royal Blues 11; Fernie High School 3, Michel Pirates 8; "150" Maroons 14, Ted's Cards 3. Four A's received the bye.

Second round—Michel Pirates 1, Four A's 6; "150" Royal Blues 0, "150" Maroons 17.

The final game was played between Fernie "150" Maroons and Fernie Four A's.

At the end of regulation time, the score was 7-7, so it was decided to split the $30 prize between them, and play for $5 on Sunday. The winner of Sunday's game will be the winner of the tournament.

Umpires for the tournament were D. Oliver and Chief Woodburn.—Ted.

Alberta could have refunded its $100,000,000 of debt with Dominion backing at the same rates of interest (as the May 17 Federal loan carried —Ed.) with no complaints from bond holders, no comebacks of any kind, no accusations of dishonesty, no blacklisting of the province by lending companies and private investors, no withholding of outside capital for house-building and business enterprise. It could have done this, but the Provincial Legislature refused to allow it.—Edmonton Bulletin.

How Do
"Little Savings"
Finance
Mortgage Loans?

Answer.—Every mortgage loan made by a Life Insurance company is made up of the savings of several policyholders.

Question.—What do these savings represent?

Answer.—They represent the money which thrifty men and women have invested in Life Insurance for the protection of themselves and their dependants.

Q.—What is the average policyholder's share in Life Insurance assets?

A.—Approximately $571.

Q.—Then it would require most of the accumulated savings of six policyholders to make a mortgage loan of $3,000?

A.—That is a fact.

Q.—How much Life Insurance money is invested in mortgages?

A.—More than $382,000,000, in first mortgages on farm, town and city properties in Canada.

Q.—In whose interests are these investments made?

A.—In the interests of more than 3,500,000 Canadian policyholders, most of whom are in modest financial circumstances.

Another happy hour was enjoyed,
on Sunday afternoon last. Able wasn't in Calgary.

Recently a man was fined two dollars for contempt of court. He produced a five-dollar bill in payment. The clerk regretted that he had no change.
"That's all right," he said, "I'll take it out in contempt."

Hope that the King government would disallow recent repudiation legislation of Alberta was seen in Ottawa in Senator W. A. Buchanan's support of Senator Arthur Meighen's criticism of the Aberhart laws. "Revival of the construction industry would have provided employment for Alberta, if confidence in the province had not been destroyed," he said.

Trout fishing season in South Alberta opens on June 1st. New regulations have not yet been posted.

Aberhart hasn't even given the poor people of Saskatchewan an opportunity of seeing his dream car—evidence of plenty in the midst of poverty.

The amazing legislation of the Province of Alberta has now been placed on the doorstep of the federal government for allowing or disallowing, and a pretty nasty kettle of fish it is.—The Financier, Montreal.

A definite movement is afoot to form a fish and game association in Blairmore, and for that purpose a meeting is to be held at the office of The Blairmore Enterprise on Monday night at 7.30 sharp, to which all interested are welcome to attend.

Quite a number of Oddfellows from Pincher Creek, including the good old-timer and veteran, James Miller, came up to attend the funeral of Joseph Montalbetti on Sunday. Jimmy is looking younger than ever and is now bordering on the 80-year mark.

"Snoop" reported to us that Joe Lencucha has been practicing faithfully for the last two weeks, and is now in A-1 condition. Somehow we doubted
Snoop, but Joe proved it to us on Tuesday, when he took second place in the high jump at Bellevue. Bob Emmerson was placed first; while C.
Favero took third.

Alberta is in such first-class shape,
and there is so little business of importance
requiring attention in the province, that the premier, the minister of municipal affairs, the provincial treasurer, the provincial secretary and the "experts" of the Social Credit Board can all leave this province at the same time to go and save Saskatchewan. We are the completed job and need no further salvation.

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Niven, of Lethbridge, were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Swart.

Jack Bundy has returned from Calgary,
where he has been attending the school
of technology and art.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wood and Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Tustian have returned from the Nelson district, B.C. This trip was specially planned at apple blossom time.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cleland and sons
Roy and Dennis, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Matthews and daughter Elaine, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Horning, Mrs. Ambrose Hornung and Connie Porter, were visitors to Waterton Park on May 24th.

Extensive repair work and the building of several blocks of new sidewalks is dressing the town up for the 9th of June celebration, when all roads will lead to Cowley for horse races, ball games and other sundry sports
and activities.

Wednesday was observed here as clean-up day, when the winter's accumulation of junk and litter was cleared from back alleys and streets and hauled out of town.

A meeting of the town sports committee was held on Monday evening, when further arrangements were made to make the big annual celebration a huge success, and to give all visitors a very courteous welcome and a real jolly good time. The gala date has been set for June the 9th.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Holmes and daughter Betty, of Calgary and formerly of Beaver Mines, were victims of an auto accident a few miles south of Pincher Creek on the Waterton highway on Saturday afternoon last. There were five in the car when it turned over in a ditch. Miss Holmes and Miss Sheila Frankish sustained bruises, Howard
Schoening a lacerated arm, while Mr.
and Mrs. Holmes suffered a severe shaking up.

HILLCREST HAPPENINGS

Mrs. Louis Fumagalli was a visitor to Trail this week.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Rees Richards was the scene of a very delightful event, when a number of friends gathered to congratulate them
on reaching their golden wedding anniversary.
Whist and bridge were played,
honors for bridge going to Miss C.
Emery and Mrs. Cruickshank; and for whist to Mrs. W. Fisher and Mrs. F.
Willetta. After cards, a dainty luncheon was served, followed by presentation of a handsome piece of silver to Mr. and Mrs. Richards.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Morgan and daughter
Shirley left Friday on a several months'
visit to Wales.

Mrs. Hollenbeck and son, of Kimberley, are visiting at the home of her father,
Mr. S. Belopotosky.

Margaret Adam, who is attending the convent school at Pincher Creek, spent several days at her home here.

Margaret, Christina and George Grant
motored to Creston over the week end.

Mrs. W. Norton, Mrs. A. Evans and daughter Patsy left Saturday for Yahk, B.C., where Mrs. Norton plans on spending the summer months with her husband.

At the election held to fill the position of vice-president of the Hillcrest
Miners' Literary and Athletic Association,
P. Rhys was chosen over three other candidates. He succeeds Tony D'Ercole.

Mrs. J. Stobbs and son John, of Mission,
B.C., are visiting here at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Stobbs.

Mrs. George Bamforth and granddaughter,
Doreen Tabor, were visiting in Lethbridge on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Makin, S. Price and J. Price went to Calgary on Wednesday to attend the funeral of Mrs. R. Price, who passed away there on Monday.

Mrs. Kewan and granddaughter, Miss Jones, of Calgary, were visitors this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs.
Percy Salt.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Webster were week end visitors to their home in Mountain View.

WHO OWNS CANADA'S BANKS?

Who are the owners and
what do they do?

★ ★

JIM BROWN, carpenter—your next-door neighbor—may be one of the supposed "Big Shots" who own the banks in Canada. He may own a couple of shares, or maybe only one.

Women, executors or trustees of estates, and retired people, comprise about 63 per cent. of the shareholders in one of Canada's banks, taken as an example.

Analysis of this particular bank, which may be regarded as typical, shows that women own nearly half of its shares.
Farmers, merchants and professional men are the most numerous of the classes listed.

There are 260 occupations represented
among the shareholders. They include:

Accountants, actors, barbers,
bankers, bee-keepers, boat-builders,
bricklayers, carpenters, cheesemakers,
clergymen, dairymen, dentists,
doctors, drivers, druggists, farmers,
fishermen, forest rangers, funeral directors, grocers, insurance agents, jailers, journalists, linotypists, lobster
buyers, miners, oil operators, plumbers,
policemen, railway employees, ranchers,
sailors, scalers, sheriffs, stenographers,
stevedores, timber cruisers, tobacco
farmers, trappers, and others.

These are among the folks who own the banks and so must be a part of that bogy with which some people seek to scare
you—that fabled "international bankers' ring". They are mostly Canadians—your fellow-citizens—decent people like yourselves.

50,185 people hold the 1,445,000 chartered bank shares issued. Seventy out of every hundred shares are owned in Canada.

The average share-holding is 28.8
shares—but all through the lists of bank shareholders you will find hundreds who own from one to five shares.

There is no concentration of ownership and power in the hands of any small group.
These shareholders annually elect directors.
There are 172 directors of Canada's chartered banks. Their addresses dot the map of Canada from coast to coast.
They are men of proven business ability;
their own success has proved their judgment good; that judgment is always alert in safeguarding your money.

Their business experience reinforces the skill and training of the salaried bank executives in conserving the interests of the depositors, note-holders and shareholders.

Loans to bank directors, firms in which they are partners and loans for which they are guarantors, as of February 28th, 1938, did not exceed 1/100th part of the total loans made by the chartered banks. That is about the usual proportion. Monthly returns have to be made to the Government showing these borrowings.

No director may vote, or even be present at a meeting of the board when loans in which he has any interest are under discussion.

The law prevents a bank from doing certain things. A bank is prohibited from lending on mortgages, for loans must be of short term and quickly realizable.

A bank is forbidden to engage in trade. It must not buy, or lend against its own shares or the shares of any other chartered bank. No bank, bank director, or bank employee is allowed to hold shares in the Bank of Canada.

A bank must not let its name appear on certain prospectuses, nor may any of its staff represent insurance companies.

There are heavy penalties laid down for violation of any of these and other provisions of The Bank Act.

Your bank provides machinery for carrying out adequately the most widely varying, day-to-day transactions—financing farmer or factory, merchant or miner; simplifying business, facilitating the exchange of goods and services.

Canada's chartered banks are owned by your fellow-citizens, directed by men known as competent leaders of business and managed by able men risen from the ranks whose whole business life and experience has been in the bank.

They are at your service.

A GRAND BIG CAR in everything but price!

The De Luxe Ford V-8 looks big and is big—in performance and value.

The De Luxe was designed for a definite group of customers—folks who liked the basic Ford features, but wanted a little more size and style. We've put in everything they asked for.

The De Luxe is richly appointed, inside and out. Closed sedans have longer bodies and larger luggage space. The V-8 engine under the hood develops 85 smooth-flowing horsepower and gives 22 to 27 miles on a gallon of gas, as owners report. In comfort, performance and pride of ownership, the De Luxe Ford sets a new high for the low-price field.

De Luxe prices are especially reasonable when you realize that they include a great deal of equipment for which you are often asked to pay extra. . . . The newly styled Standard Ford V-8 is even lower priced. Because both cars are Fords, you know that whatever you pay, you'll get good measure for your money.

A Valuable Discovery

Youth Claims His Artificial Radium More Economical And Safer

Dr. E. A. Smith, who said he was associated with the late Mme. Curie in her isolation of radium, declared 16-year-old Wallace L. Minto of Jersey City "has something" in his claim of a safer, more economical artificial radium.

Dr. Smith, who has laboratories at North Bergen and Newark, N.J., witnessed a demonstration of the youth's finding at the annual meeting of the eastern Electronic Research Association in New York. Minto, a high school student, showed, with the aid of a geiger tube, what he described as the greater strength of his product as compared with the genuine radium.

"Young Minto definitely has made great strides," Dr. Smith said. "I predict a great future for him." Minto said his artificial radium was less dangerous than the genuine article due to fewer alpha rays and more beta and gamma rays. It also is more economical, he said, because it was made from ore found near his home town, whereas genuine radium comes from the Canadian North and several other distant points.

Minto, who also claims to have found and named four new elements in the last two years—since he was 14 years old—said his artificial radium could be manufactured for about $250 a gram in small quantities, more economically in increased output. Genuine radium sells for about $25,000 a gram.

Too Much Open Work

Buffalo Shoe-Shiner Deplores Style Of Women's Footwear

Bert Brown, diminutive negro shoe-shiner in Buffalo city hall, has given up hope of ever getting any business from women. Brown said he might pick up some business women if he carried "too polish."

Dead In Sunken Treasure

Chicago Man Will Attempt To Salvage Valuable Mexican Cargo

Capt. John Craig, who deals in sunken treasure and pirate booty on a strictly law-abiding basis, said he would descend to the ocean floor off the Virginia Capes next month in a quest which may yield a portion of the Mexican crown jewels and the rubies of the Empress Carlotta.

The treasure, which included 362 tons of silver bars, was lost when the liner Merida carrying refugees of the Mexican revolution, went down 55 miles off the Virginia coast. Craig said the bulk, object of several previous treasure hunts, was lying upside down in the sea and was particularly hazardous to divers.

"We have to overcome part of that," he said, "by the new equipment we will carry, doing away with trailing air lines which might be fouled." The new diving equipment was tested this spring, when Max Nohi led a coast guard cutter off Milwaukee and went down to a new world record of 420 feet in Lake Michigan.

The divers breathe a mixture of helium and oxygen fed from tanks carried on their backs, eliminating the hydrogen mixture which left them susceptible to the danger of becoming stupefied if they remained down too long.

Francisco Madero had seized control from the dictator, Diaz, and forbidden exportation of wealth. The Merida almost had reached haven when it was rammed by the Admiral Farragut looming suddenly out of the dark. The Merida went down and with it its treasure.

Gardening

More tender vegetables are beans, tomato plants, squash, cucumbers and melons. They will not start to grow until the weather and soil really become warm. In order to get a long and steady supply of green beans, make at least three plantings at intervals of ten days, and use several varieties. To do the same thing with tomatoes, make at least three plantings for the first crop, and hurry these along with fertilizer and monthly mulch. All garden tomatoes should be staked.

These warm weather vegetables prefer rich open soil. Tender members of the melon family, that is, squash, cucumber, citron, etc., take in her isolation of radium, declared 16-year-old Wallace L. Minto of Jersey City "has something" in his claim of a safer, more economical artificial radium.

TAILORING FOR LARGER WOMEN

Scrambled eggs can be unscrambled, turned back into whites and yolks again, by a new un-mixing machine designed for the oil industry and shown at the international petroleum exposition at Tulsa.

Its first use is a short cut to extracting fine motor oils from petroleum. The unmixer does one of those things which seemingly can't happen, forcing two liquids to flow in the same stream but one in the opposite direction to the other.

A whirling turbine, going 1,800 revolutions a minute, does it. Instead of being an ordinary turbine, this one is shaped inside like a small shell. Its interior passage winds from the centre outward in spirals.

A cross section would look like a clock spring.

It takes two liquids at one time. The only necessity is that they be something that won't mix, like oil and water. Here at the exposition the unmixer served the king himself.

Two liquids and clear water. The two liquids come out, with the water but the kerosene white.

It is not complicated. The water goes in at the inner end of the whirling spiral. The centrifugal force spins this water against the outer wall of the spiral passage and pushes it along toward the outer end, where it emerges.

Meanwhile the blue kerosene is forced into the spiral from the opposite end by a pressure pump, which keeps it moving in the opposite direction from the water.

Being lighter than water, it flows over the surface. It travels like any windblown substance floating on water.

But due to the forces in the turbine there is a great deal of temporary mixing. The water absorbs the oil. The centrifugal force keeps separating the liquids so that they emerge completely separated and from opposite ends of the spiral.

Report Describes Geology Of South Reindeer Area In Saskatchewan

The general and economic geology of the South Reindeer Lake area in northern Saskatchewan are described in a preliminary report (Paper 38-15) issued by the Geological Survey Division, Department of Mines and Resources, Ottawa, and based on an investigation by F. J. Alcock.

The 5,000-square mile area adjoins the Manitoba border, and is underlain by different groups of Precambrian rocks.

The most promising part of the area, and the one which has most attracted the attention of prospectors, is that surrounding Waddy and Nistassin Lakes, near the western border.

Much staking was done in this section in 1928 by Nipissing Mines, Limited, Ventures, Limited, and Dominion Explorers Limited, and others, and during 1937 development work was carried out on several claims held by Churchill Minerals, Limited.

The main mineral showings in the region lie near a small stock, which may be the source of the surrounding mineral deposits. It remains to be proved, however, whether any of the deposits so far developed are of commercial value.

The report (Paper 38-15) includes also information on means of access to the area, its topography, and its geology, and is accompanied by two large-scale preliminary geological maps. Copies may be obtained from the Director, Mines and Geology Branch, Department of Mines and Resources, Ottawa.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

MAY 29

MAINTAINING PERSONAL EFFICIENCY

Golden Text: Every man that striveth in the games exerciseth self-control in all things. I. Corinthians 9:25.

Lesson: Daniel 1:9-10, 19, 20; I. Corinthians 9:24-27.

Devotional reading: II. Peter 1:5-11.

Explanations And Comments

King Nebuchadnezzar's Plan for Jewish Youth, Daniel 1:1-7. In 606 B.C. Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, besieged Jerusalem and took back as captives young men of noble Jewish families. Among them were the four young men of our text, of whom Daniel was the leader. For three years they were to receive instruction in the language and learning of the Chaldeans to fit them for service in the palace of Nebuchadnezzar.

The names of these four young men were changed, in that they were to be identified with the king himself. Daniel's Firm Resolve, Daniel 1:8-10. Daniel firmly resolved that he would not defile himself with the king's dainties and wine. He regarded them as defiling for the food was not prepared in accordance with the Jewish law (Lev. 3:17) and had been presented, as was the usual custom, before an idol (see I. Cor. 8:10) and he knew that the rich food and the wine were not good for him.

He requested Ashpenaz, the officer in whose charge he was, to permit him and his three companions to refuse the food. Though kindly disposed toward Daniel, the officer hesitated to grant his request. "Why should the king compare your faces with those of the other youths and notice that you are in poorer condition than they?" he asked. "The king might think that I had enriched myself with what had been provided for you, and my life would be forfeited," he added.

A Wise Experiment, Daniel 1:11-16. Daniel had a plan which he knew would not get the officer into trouble, and he proposed it. "Test us," he said, "let us eat pulse (herbs, Revised Version; vegetables, Moffatt's) and drink water for ten days, and then compare our faces with those of the youth who eat the king's dainties, and deal with us according to the result."

The Effect of a Temperate Life, Daniel 1:17-20. Ashpenaz yielded to the request. Doubtless, with many misgivings, for he believed that rich food was necessary for strength, and that wine was a wholesome drink. At the end of the time agreed upon, however, the experiment proved Daniel in the right; the four youths were heavier and fairer than those who ate the dainties and drank the wine, and they were put permanently on their simple fare.

The Reward of Temperance, Daniel 1:19, 20. At the end of the three years' training, the king talked with his group of picked young men, and found that Daniel was better than all the rest, for the result was as we should expect: they who had abstained from food and drink had the clearest brains for study and work.

Because of his wisdom, Daniel became the king's personal attendant, and far surpassed in wisdom all the magicians and enchanters in the king's realm.

Lloyd's Make New Rule

Will Not Reinsure Owners For Gems Lost In Spain

Precious stones are again in demand in Europe and prices are advancing. Paris reports important buying by people who want to guard against the fall in the value of the French franc. London has received reports that Americans abroad are purchasing worth-while stones as investments, paying up to $50,000 each for a gem.

Lloyd's has had a large demand for diamond insurance recently in spite of the organization's new rule that owners can no longer insure against war risks. This is expected to cause uneasiness among gem owners in Spain or Shanghai for Lloyd's will not reimburse for stones lost during the fighting there.

ARTICLE NO. 87

Carcinogenic Agents

In 1915, two Japanese workers, Yatsugawa and Itchikawa, succeeded in producing cancer in the skin of mice by painting the skin with tar.

In 1930 British investigators announced that they had produced experimental cancer by means of pure hydrocarbons. Hydrocarbons are compounds of carbon and hydrogen and the particular one depends on the relative proportions of contained carbon and hydrogen. Benzene is a hydrocarbon containing equal parts of carbon and hydrogen. An example of a fatty hydrocarbon is paraffin.

The investigations carried on in the effort to produce carcinogenic agents read like a romance. Much of this work was done at the Cancer Hospital in Fulham Road, London, by Kennaway, Cook, Hieger, Hewitt and others.

The first cancer-producing agent was called 1:2:3:6-dibenzanthracene, an aromatic hydrocarbon, which when injected into the body, will cause cancer. Re-arrangement of the molecules in this formidably named substance, gave other carcinogenic agents.

More recently these investigators have produced from coal-tar, several hydrocarbons active in producing cancer in the skin of mice. It has been found that certain lubricating oils, notably those found in the north of England and on the Continent of Europe, will cause cancer of the skin. Moreover it has been found feasible to remove the cancer-producing agent from these oils and thus to make them safe.

The discoveries just referred to have changed the entire attitude to the matter of chronic irritation in regard to cancer. It is now believed that the earliest signs prepare the way for the action of the contained special cancer-exciting substance. Bit by bit, research workers are uncovering the secrets of malignant disease. The best part of this work is that the scientific research worker does not try to exploit his discovery for his own benefit. He gives it freely for the benefit of his fellow-men.

Purchasers Get Break

British Firms Selling On Credit Cannot Repossess Without Court

Five million British families buying furniture, automobiles, radios and what-not on the "never never" plan had reason to rejoice when the House of Commons passed by writing to the House of Lords a bill to curtail the power of the creditor.

Ellen C. Wilkinson, Laborite who sponsored the bill, dashed from Commons to a cocktail party to celebrate her victory.

Instalment salesmen were not so jubilant. The bill provides that they may recover goods from defaulters only under court order and that the seller must specify both cash and instalment prices for goods.

The bill was intended to curb firms which seize goods even if only the final payment is overdue.

From Small Beginning

Temple University Was Really Started With One Student

A young man once came to Dr. Russell H. Conwell ("Acres of Diamonds") and asked him how he could get an education in spite of the fact that the young man had no money and a dependent.

The busy but sympathetic clergyman suggested that he come three evenings a week to his study for instruction. After his first Latin lesson, the young man asked whether he could bring a friend along. Dr. Conwell told him it would be all right. The next week six young men came to the study, and the next forty.

That was the beginning of Temple University.

CHAPTER XI.—Continued

"They're a good saller, sir," said Henry. "No local masquerade, rag or pageant is complete without one. Why, sir, we were represented by no less than six at the last Charity Ball of the Sherry Merchants' Guild. He took a garment from a full rack.

"Just slip this one on for size, sir," he said.

With the aid of Henry, Ernest got into the ghostly outfit.

A cunning contrivance of paper mache fitted over his head and shoulders and his features were concealed inside the imitation throat. Just above the top of his head the false neck ended abruptly and a trifle bloodily as if it had been severed by one clean stroke of the executioner's ax.

Ernest surveyed himself in a peroglass through two eye-holes cut in the neck and craftily masked by a lace veil. He found himself a fearful-looking object.

"Your head, sir," said Henry.

He handed Ernest a realistic effigy of the head of the decapitated Sir Rufus Bingley complete with raven hair, moustaches and a fanatic's wild eyes.

"It is carried under the left arm, sir," said Henry.

"Thank you."

"The rental fee is a pound a night, sir."

"I'll take it," said Ernest and handed Henry a pound note from his fast dwindling funds.

He started to leave the shop.

"Beg pardon, sir," said Henry, "but where shall I send your street clothes?"

Ernest turned back.

"Perhaps I'd better put them on," he said.

"Most of our patrons do, sir," said Henry.

It was midnight in Bingley Castle and elsewhere. It was as dark as the inside of a Zulu. Storm clouds blotted out the moon and a cold, hungry wind keened through the pines. On such a night, witches said, up their broomsticks and owl-covers in their nests, afraid.

Mewed in his tower, Ernest Bingley awaited the witching hour. For warmth he paced up and down. He caught a glimpse of himself in a mirror, and under his ghostly garb, goose-pimples started up.

"I must be good if I frighten myself," he muttered.

Like a knell, the village bell counted out the day with twelve solemn bongas. Ernest picked up his spear from the bed, tucked it under the correct arm, strolled out of his room and started for the haunted chamber in another wing where Master Mervin Wyncoop lay in pie-bowd slumber.

As he turned a corner, and, like a puma on the prowl, crept down a long passage-way, tunnel-like and poorly illuminated, Ernest saw something that congealed him in his tracks. Coming slowly toward him was a headless ghost.

No man, they say, is more surprised than the man who comes face to face with himself. But this was no mirrored reflection. The advancing apparition was taller than Ernest, far taller, as tall, for example, as the late Sir Rufus Bingley.

Ten paces from Ernest the ghost halted like a soldier coming to attention. Ghost faced ghost. Ernest was frozen, riveted, lashed to the spot. He wanted, very much, to say to the holder of the ghost concession on whose province was was poaching.

"Please don't be sore, Sir Rufus. It's only a joke. I'm just a Number 2 ghost. You're still head hunt around here."

But his tongue was as traitorous as his legs. It had turned to a potato chip and all he could manage was a faint "peaty."

Then his limbs came to life, and he turned and ran. He heard a padding of ghostly feet. Twisting around he saw that the spirit was not gaining on him. It was running, no doubt about that, but in the opposite direction.

With popping eyes, Ernest beheld the other witch wrench open the door of the haunted chamber and vanish into that historic room.

Instantly the air was cut to shreds by a hullabaloo of piping screams, and the voice of Master Mervin filled the night.

"Mommamma, Mommamma, spooka! Mommamma! Spookooooka!"

Ernest Bingley took absolutely no comfort just then in the thought that his purpose had been accomplished, victoriously. It seemed probable that the shade of Sir Rufus had so scared the embryo hoodlum that Master Mervin would quit the castle in his pajamas, and grace the scene no more.

Ernest's most immediate thought was to put distance between himself and the grisly thing he had seen in the passage. To this end he raced on, blindly; for he was in the grip of primitive emotions. He did not know where he was going; but he was definitely on his way.

Bed-rooms began to pop open. The Duke of Boddington seeing Ernest flit past, cried "I've got 'em again," and collapsed beside his brandy bottle. The Countess of Bathberry saw enough to give her material for a full page story before she swooned. On went Ernest.

Some historians aver that the architect who laid out Bingley Castle did so immediately thereafter of blind-aggrieved. Ernest found evidence to the contrary as he played tag with the specter in the zig-zag, criss-cross, crazy-quilt corridors.

How he found himself whizzing across the Great Hall, hurdling sofas and tables is in the McCool, Ernest did not stop to inquire.

A single night-light in a sconce, feeble as an overworked glow-worm, imparted to that cavern of a room a lurid demi-gloom.

Ernest dashed toward the door leading to the library with some idea of snatching a spear from one of the figures in armor with which to defend himself. He ripped open the door. Something hit him. He bounced back and landed on the floor in a knee-chest position. Standing over him was the object with which he had collided, the ghost.

Instinctively, like a felled fighter, Ernest scrambled to his feet and swung wildly at the ghost. Something had whirled past his ear. The ghost had the head of Ernest. Ernest returned the compliment and buried his head at the ghost. It came off the ghost's ribs, and Ernest heard a fleecy sounding grunt. End of Round One.

Round Two. Battling Bingley and Kid Ghost meet in ring-center and exchange long left and right wallops to the jaw. As neither of them has a head, no damage is done. Bingley shifts his attack and lands a hard one-two kick on the phantom's shins. They clinch. They wrestle. They break. Ghost jabs ivory book-end to the Iowa's hip. Ernie counters with an subway to the body. Ghost grunts, and grabs vase from table and biffs the game mid-west scrapper on the Adam's apple, or where his Adam's apple probably is. The Battler is staggered. Ghost cracks down with five-tones and Bingley is down. One, two; three, four, five—he's up. He's down. He's up. How that lad can take it! Bingley rallies and drives in with two hard blows to the belt-line. Now the Ghost is groggy. Bingley floors Ghost with a stiff butt to the mid-section. One, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine, ten—he's out—and Bingley wins in two minutes and thirty-six seconds of the second round.

The long ghost was licked, and knew it. Prone on the floor of the Great Hall he whimpered, "Spare me, Sir Rufus, spare me. I only did it to show that rich American boulder, Ernest."

"Duff-Hooper!" Ernest cried.

"Yes, Sir Rufus?"

"I'm not a ghost. I'm Ernest Bingley."

"Oh, I say!" said the captain. "I hope I didn't hurt you," Ernest said.

"Knocked my wind out, that's all." He lay, heaving and panting, a most ashamed and sheepish ghost.

"How do you feel now?" asked Ernest after a moment.

"Like a bally imbecile," replied Duff-Hooper.

"I guess," said Ernest, with a victor's magnanimity, "you scared me about as much as I scared you."

"If the fellows at the Cavalry Club hear of this I shall be sent to Coventry," groaned the captain.

"They won't hear about it from me," Ernest assured him.

"That's white of you, old chap."

The captain hoisted himself up on his shaky legs.

"No hard feelings," said Ernest.

"Right-ho! Mind if I sit down?"

"I'm a bit winded myself," said Ernest.

The two ghosts sat side by side on a sofa.

"Fancy two grown men losing their heads like this," said Duff-Hooper.

"I mean being thrown into such a panic. Of course neither of us believes in the ghost twaddle."

"My head doesn't," said Ernest.

"But my legs do!"

"Isn't that a decanter of whiskey at your elbow?"

"Yes."

"Pass it to me, please," said Duff-Hooper.

"I need a brace."

He unbuckled his bogus neck and shoulders, emerged from his supernatural shell, and poured himself four fingers of spine-stiffener.

"Bit of a boomerang, what he said."

"My setting out to scare you, I mean. I'm most frightfully sorry."

"Forget it."

"Rosa will think me a fearful swine."

"She need not know about it."

"Thank you."

"You're welcome."

The captain gave himself another injection of confidence from the decanter.

"If the lads at the club could see me now!" he said.

"What a picture! I'm not in the least superstitious, really. But you did give me a nasty turn."

Fear Police Dogs

Arab Criminals Have A Great Respect For Them

Four more South African police dogs have been sent by liner to Palestine, where they will put the fear of Allah into Arab criminals. The dog training depot of Quagga-port, Pretoria, has a wonderful record, and seven of their dogs are in service at present in Palestine. Detective Lance-Sergeant M. M. S. Kitching and Detective Lance-Sergeant Z. M. Pretorius, of the South African police dog depot at Pretoria have been seconded for service with the Palestine police for one year and have sailed with the four dogs. Two members of the Palestine police force took an intensive course of training at the South African depot as dogmasters a few years ago and returned to Palestine with the first South African police dogs. These inquisitive animals were regarded by superstitious Arabs as something almost supernatural and criminals in Palestine have a profound respect for them.—Brandon Sun.

Would Widen Panama Canal

Canadian University Professor To Plan Preliminary Studies

Dr. Donald F. MacDonald, professor of geology at St. Francis Xavier University, Antigonish, N.S., said he would accept an invitation of the United States Government to plan preliminary studies toward enlargement of the Panama Canal. From 1911-13 Dr. MacDonald served with the Panama Canal Commission as advisor on engineering geology.

The Last Minute Effort

Cramping For Examinations Is Only Waste Of Time

Students who lay store by the process of making a frantic, last-minute effort to review what they are supposed to have studied leisurely and systematically during the scholastic term, in an effort to cope with examinations, may be wasting time, states the Woodstock Sentinel-Review.

Some students collapse under the strain of cramming. A Toronto physician says it is bad for the nerves to study during examination time. His advice is that it is better to go to some entertainment, a dance or the movies. He points out that it can be proven scientifically that one-half of what you hear or read is forgotten in half an hour; after nine hours, two-thirds is forgotten; after six days, three-quarters forgotten; after one month, four-fifths forgotten. Apparently the only way to fix information in the memory is to take notes on what is heard or read and then refer to those notes once a month. This doctor advises students to obtain old examination papers and test themselves by writing them, on the basis that the only way to learn how to do anything is to do it. For example no one could learn to play golf or any other game by reading about it.

With regard to the utility of cramming for examinations, it is pointed out that no tennis player on the eve of an important match, would get up at 6 o'clock in the morning and practise until the game was on.

The tendency on the part of students to believe that they can overcome neglect of studies in the early part of the term by studying intensively on the eve of examination is general. Wisdom and experience, however, seem to emphasize that there is no virtue in that expedient. Moderate study throughout the whole term and moderate reviewing of notes before examinations seem to offer the best assurance of success. The cramming that robs the students of sleep for nights before the test is often the surest way to court failure.

Japan Losing Lily Trade

Ships Are Now Carrying Munitions For War In China

The Sino-Japanese war is encouraging lily culture on this continent to a greater extent than ever before. For years Easter lilies have been coming to Canadian and United States florists and seedsmen, to a large extent, in Japanese refrigerator-equipped vessels. With silk, lily shipments were an important source of income for the Japanese.

Now, with the development of the Japanese aggression in China, ships which were used in transporting Easter lily bulbs from Japan to America are now carrying men, guns, munitions and the many necessities of war to China.

Lack of proper ship facilities and lack of experienced lily growers in Japan's fields are beginning to make themselves noticeable in lily imports.

Years ago many of the lily bulbs, lily pots and cuttings were formed in Japan, and were shipped to America and China. Then an Englishman in the East began sending lily bulbs back home. The people of Japan and China soon learned that the bulbs had a longer life. The mountains were secured; many species became scarcer and scarcer from year to year.

It was then, when the source of supply began to diminish, that the Chinese and Chinese began to cultivate them. Now thousands of persons, in both of these countries, are engaged in the pursuit of raising lilies for American florists and gardeners.

Most lilies can be grown from seed. For commercial culture, however, increase is often made from small bulbets growing out from the parent bulbs or along the flower stalks, or from "scales" taken from the large bulb. These scales are placed in sand and from these small bulbets form. Varying periods of time are required to develop blooming-size bulbs—one to three years.

The Longest Word

What is the longest word in the English language? The word most frequently cited is "honorificabilitudinitatibus," according to Ripley's Big Book, which is to be found in Shakespeare's "Love's Labour's Lost," Act 5, scene 1, line 44. To the President, in Byfield, we owe "incomprehensibility." Doctor Benson is credited with "antidisestablishmentarianism."

New Type Of Stoker

Planning For The Wider Use Of Canadian Coal

A committee of three will be appointed by the Western Canada Fuel Association to approach the fuel research branch of the federal department of mines and stoker manufacturers with a view to developing stokers adapted to burning of Canadian coals, the association decided at its 19th annual convention at Lethbridge.

"Co-operation between the coal industry, the railways and heating equipment concerns to the end that wider use of Canadian coals may be enjoyed by Canadian consumers" was urged.

It was suggested the association confer with the railways with the purpose of co-operating for the best interests of both.

In view of the sale of wood in Winnipeg to the exclusion of coal, it was resolved to petition governments to conserve the forest wealth throughout the west.

Argument Was Settled

The skipper and the engineer were arguing. The latter said that steering a ship was much easier than looking after the engines, and the captain said looking after the engines was child's play compared with steering. They decided to settle the argument by changing places.

After ten minutes the captain had to admit he was beaten.

"Mac," he shouted, "I can't get the engines to start!"

"That's all right," replied the engineer, "we needa both—we are argu'd."

Old Temples Discovered

Three temples of the sixteenth century, B.C., have been discovered in the Baharia Oasis in middle Egypt. Statues and vases were found and drawings and inscriptions on the walls are well preserved. The temples were closed in the Roman period.

Electric Fences

Successful Method For Keeping Farm Animals From Straying

Electricity is making farm animals in the Guelph district fence-ahy these days, and saving the farmers money.

Premier Hepburn, himself a farmer near St. Thomas, said Professor W. C. Blackwood of the department of agricultural engineering at Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, had reported on installation of 260 sets of electrical fences. The fences consist merely of a strand of barbed wire stretched a few feet above the ground and attached to a small battery.

One experience is enough for the animals. After that they keep away from the fences.

Fence lengths ordinarily costing from $1 to $1.20 a rod now can be installed for a couple of cents a rod. Used principally in pasturing, the fences can be used successfully for hogs, according to Hon. P. M. Dewar, agriculture minister.

Probably the first submarine mail service in history is operating between Catalonia and government Spain proper. The extraordinary transportation means is necessary because Catalonia has been severed from the rest of government territory by the insurgent push to the Mediterranean. The government finance ministry has ordered a special issue of submarine stamps for the service.

LEAGUE OPENS

With all six teams in the league playing Wednesday evening, the C.N.P. baseball league got off to a good start. Blaimore C.C. journeyed to Landbreck, where they received a 10-6 setback. After a strong start that earned the Cardinals four runs in the first two innings, they grew somewhat weaker at bat as the game progressed. A strong rally by the Landbreck nine in the fourth brought the score to four-all. Landbreck gradually pulled away, and at the end of the game were on the long end of a 10-6 score. Batteries: Blaimore C.C., Giacomuzzi, J. Marchiniak, J. Dohak and A. Chais; Landbreck, Kihasek, J. Evans and Gatto.

CANUCKS WIN

At the Blaimore stadium the same evening, the Blaimore Canucks defeated Hillcrest to the tune of 9-2. It was Canucks' first game and they got away to a good start. We hope they can keep it up all season. Batteries: Blaimore, Marcolin, Yagos and Gates; Hillcrest, Draper, Tabor, Price and J. Ellick. ## COLUMBUS CLUB TO HOLD BIG DAY

With the second game of the league for Columbus Club being played at the Blaimore stadium on Sunday afternoon, the Cardinals plan to make a real day of it.

Blaimore and Pass fans will have an opportunity to witness a real opening of a ball season in real city style. The allspendred (your guess is as good as mine) will start from the Columbus hall at 3 p.m., proceeding down main street. At the intersections halts will be made while members of the Columbus Club give some of their yells. Down the street they will cross the track to the south side and head west to the stadium, where the honorary officers of the club will officially open the ball season by throwing in the first ball. The W.C. band will be in attendance, and the cheering section will do their part. To wind up the day, a big concert will be staged in the Columbus hall, commencing at 8:15 sharp. Don't forget, your ball fans to be at the big game Sunday afternoon, when the C.C.'s play Michel Miners. A hearty invitation is extended to all to be at the Columbus hall for the concert at 8:15.

The Alberta provincial musical festival is being held in Edmonton all this week.

B. R. Mooney, of Edmonton, has purchased the King George hotel at Holden.

Wm. Bird, West Canadian Collieries representative at Winnipeg, paid an official visit to the main office here last week end.

Saskatchewan people got their first whiff of the $25 a month for everybody stench at Prince Albert on Thursday night last, from Bill Aberhart. Some of those who attempted to swallow it were admitted to hospital.
